Lost Pilot Tells of Ordeal; Was 23 Days Without Food

By Richard Sarnum

OTTAWA, (CP)—Pilot L. McKenzie, the tough guy from Winnipeg who flew a jet-propelled airplane into a lake and survived a 26-day ordeal in the northern wilderness to tell the story, is back in the arms of his wife, his family and civilization in general.

And he still loves "jet jobs" as much as ever.

He looks fine, although his nose and forehead are sunburned and peeling. And the once-happy McKenzie has a new shape, more like a 40-year-old man than a 30-year-old man.

For 23 of those 26 hopeless days in the wilds, he didn't have a bite to eat, not so much as a berry. He lived on water.

But Thursday night, in the R.C.A.F. hospital at Rockcliffe airport, he wasn't much interested in food. All he was allowed was milk and eggs, but he didn't want them.

Interested in Shave

He was, however, definitely interested in a razor and a tin of shaving blades to hack off the noble 26-day growth of beard on his chin.

Bill's wife was due to arrive several hours after he himself climbed the growth of beard on his chin.

He was greeted by Air Marshal Robert Leckie, chief of the air staff. "I'm sure glad to see you, too, sir," said Bill to the air marshal.

No Need of Ambulance

Although there was an R.C.A.F. ambulance waiting for him on the tarmac, Bill ignored it and walked away to the tiny but comfortable room he had reserved for himself.

He took off from Kapuskasing on June 29, heading for Malton airport, Toronto. He had flown from Edmonton. He climbed rapidly to get above the gathering storm clouds, got up to 20,000 feet and headed south. He switched on the oxygen.

Unknown to him, the oxygen failed. Quickly, the deadly "oxygen deprivation" overcame him, and for an unknown time he lay unconscious. When he came to, he didn't know where he was, and he didn't know what was going on. When he came to a little, he didn't know where he was, and he didn't know what was going on.

Swordfish Planes To Visit Edmonton

OTTAWA, (CP)—Eleven swordfish aircraft are making their last flight.

The planes will be used for the ground training of officers and men of the Royal Canadian Navy reserve in the theoretical and mechanical aspects of flying, naval headquarters announced Thursday.

The planes will be flown from Dartmouth, N.S., to airports near the naval divisions including Edmonton, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Port Arthur, Calgary and Vancouver.

Dates of arrival of the aircraft, flown by the navy officers, will be dependent on flying weather.

got it back. All I had was my pants, shoes and shirt.

Then began a terrible 23-day lone vigil on the lakeshore. He followed airore regulations, and stayed near his aircraft. This order is enforced because a lone aircraft is easier to find from the air than a man.

However, Bill jet craft was at the bottom of the lake.

Plan Mined Him

On the 23rd day, a Dakota aircraft, searching for him, passed over his aircraft. It was a little to the left. "If he had flown 30 yards to the right, he could have seen me," said Bill. "He didn't see me."

For all those 23 days, Bill had eaten anything. But that day, he found that the wild raspberries and blueberries were out. He filled up on those.

"The third day after I came down, I got three lights from my light and got a fire going. I kept it going for 10 days, then it went out while I was away for a while."

"I got the fire going again on the 17th day, and kept it going for a week."

"That was when the Dakota came over. One day after the Dakota flew away without seeing me, it started to rain and my fire was rained out."

Decided to Walk

"I couldn't start another one, and decided if the Dakota hadn't seen me, nobody ever would. I decided to start walking."

"There had been a lot of logging in that area years ago. I could see, and I figured they must have got the logs out somehow. I began to look. I walked up through the mountains and the hills, and I found a little stream that used to be a river. I swam."

"This must have been Tuesday, July 23."

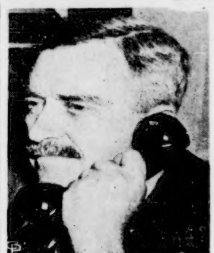

"I followed the stream for a while day and finally came to a lake. I went in the lake, and I found a little stream that used to be a river. I swam."

"I got up early, about 7:30 a.m., and started to walk. This was Thursday morning."

"I thought I heard a train whistle, but I heard another sound that got louder and then I saw it was a small boat, with an outboard motor."

Thought Boat Mirage

"I ran down to the edge of the lake, and I saw the boat. It was just going out of sight around a point and the man in it didn't see me."

Earl Browder, deposed head of the Communist party in the United States, is shown at his desk as he opened his new office as representative for Soviet publishers. Browder recently made a trip to Moscow and returned with a contract to handle Russian book sales in the U.S. His contract has been object of interest by the state department.

To End Tax Aids For Servicemen

OTTAWA, (CP)—Opposition members Thursday night urged the government to grant income tax exemption for Canadian firefighters and other auxiliary personnel who served overseas, and finally won from Acting Finance Minister Abbott a promise he would give "matter" "overnight consideration."

The discussion arose during study of a budget resolution which will make all permanent force personnel subject to ordinary income tax, whether in Canada or not, beginning with the inauguration of new rates of pay and allowances, probably September or October.

The minister read a statement explaining how the new provisions would affect members of the services and the merchant marine.

Withdraw Exemptions

"These resolutions withdraw for the most part, from Jan. 1, 1947, the special tax exemptions now granted members of the armed forces and the merchant marine."

The present position regarding taxation of the forces may be summarized briefly as follows:

1. All personnel overseas now are entirely exempt from income tax.

2. Personnel in Canada are exempt on pay and allowances up to $1,000 a year if they are higher if married. They are made subject to ordinary income tax through the operation of a diminishing tax credit.

3. Personnel in the western hemisphere but outside Canada pay only one-half the tax payable by the armed forces in Canada.

4. Pay and allowances of a member who returns from overseas and remains in the services are exempt for six months.

5. Substance allowances up to $170 a day and travelling allowances are also exempt.

To Pay Ordinary Tax

"The effect of the proposed change will be to make all permanent force personnel subject to ordinary income tax on their pay and allowances at the new permanent force rates, whether in Canada or overseas."

6. Personnel in the western hemisphere but outside Canada will be subject to full civilian tax from the beginning of 1947 while the overseas exemption will be continued only for the non-permanent force, a group rapidly diminishing, and the interim force.

Exemption for six months after returning to Canada will not be applicable to personnel receiving the new permanent force pay, and the exemption for substance allowance up to $170 a day will be repealed from the beginning of 1947.

All other allowances paid under the new permanent force rates will be taxable income with the exception of separation allowances paid in place of travelling allowances. The latter are now exempt under the law and will continue to be exempt.

Another authority pointed out that a person who goes without food for a long period suffers no vitamin deficiency. He said McKenzie would suffer no permanent ill-effects and probably would be better off if he didn't regain all the weight lost.

Pickets Force Buying Strike

DETROIT, (AP)—One of Detroit's outfitting shopping centres looked somewhat like a deserted village Thursday as a roving picket line enforced a buyers' strike.

Mostly women and children, the pickets carried such placards as "Be wise, don't be like one who buys. Don't buy today" and "Get in the mood, don't buy food."

Meat markets, groceries and other stores along Dexter Boulevard found little patronage and many of the clerks stood out on the streets watching the reactions of potential shoppers.

Russian Servant Causing Concern

WASHINGTON, (CP)—Presence of a Russian personal servant in the British embassy residence has prompted some critical comments, among extreme anti-Soviet people here but Ambassador Lord Inverchapel remains unconcerned.

When Lord Inverchapel came here, after a term as ambassador to Moscow, he brought 30-year-old Evgeni Vost, a valet and general body servant. Vost served more than five years in the British embassy in Moscow in the same capacity.

A story recently appeared in a weekly publication to the effect that Vost's presence in the embassy household had aroused official criticism here and that the ambassador had resisted "pressure" for his dismissal.

Lord Inverchapel has not commented publicly but let it be known he had experienced neither pressure nor official curiosity in connection with Vost.

An embassy spokesman said that in the natural course of events British security officers closely checked Vost's record and found it blameless before approving his transfer to Washington.

Vost's activities are such he has no duties which bring him in contact with officialdom.

Clear up Identity Injured Persons

OTTAWA, (CP)—Ontario provincial police jointly cleared up Thursday the identity of three persons injured when a Russian embassy car was wrecked on the Ottawa-Montreal road.

They identified them as Mrs. R. Piquet, wife of the legal adviser to the embassy, Max Blagorov, an embassy employee, and Stanley Demay, a chauffeur.

A Canadian police said original reports that they were seriously injured were not borne out because none of them "even had to go to bed."

It had been reported that the three were Vitaly Pavlov, alleged head of the Russian secret police in Canada, Mrs. Pavlov and Capt. Goussakov, the "chief" of the military intelligence network operating out of the embassy.

Bright Prospects for 19th Alberta Lawn Bowling Tournament

Large Number of Visitors To Compete Here August 5-10

Prospects for one of the largest tournaments in the history of the Alberta Lawn Bowling Association appear exceptionally bright, as bowlers from many parts of the province plan to enter the 19th annual tournament to be held here August 5 to 10 inclusively.

Secretary William McCrory, who will again be handling the tournament, is confident that everything will run smoothly, and is confident that the number of entries which will be received, but he is hopeful that the total will surpass that of the 1944 tournament, last to be held here. This tournament was run off in Calgary.

Closing date for entries is Wednesday July 31.

To Defend Title
One notable rink which has already signified its intentions of competing is the quintet skippered by Stan Tucker of Calgary's Army and Navy Club. Tucker guided his crew to the rink championship of the 1944 tournament and will be back with the same players to defend their honors.

Harry Woodin and Pat Gillespie of the Arma Club, who combined their skill to win the doubles championship in 1944, will also be back to defend their honors.

It is expected by the secretary that four rinks will make the trip from Medicine Hat to compete in the tournament, which will be run off during the first five days of the tournament proper.

The twilight doubles event is to be played Monday and Tuesday nights, and the doubles event is set for Wednesday, starting at 8:30 a.m. Thursday will see the completion of the tournament as the visitors' rink and ladies' events. On Friday the open triples event will wind up the tournament.

A business meeting and presentation of prizes will take place Friday evening. Officers of the Alberta Lawn Bowling Association, elected last year, are W. G. Walcott, president, Tom Haisak, Calgary, first vice-president, E. Canby, second vice-president, William McGrath, secretary-treasurer and manager of the tournament.

Jacques Drohny, a left-handed, 24-year-old French ace-kicker, won the singles title, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4, 6-7, 6-2, by drawing Brown out of position and then scoring easily.

Brown also had difficulty finding the ball, and most of his errors showed up there.

Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, and Margaret Osborne duPont of San Francisco emerged as the finalists in the women's singles.

All American women's singles windup.

Barron's Hot 68 Tops Tam Teemen

By Jerry Liska
CHICAGO, (AP)—Husky Herman Barron, 18, who led the N.Y. team to the 18-hole leadership in the $30,000 All-American Open golf tournament Thursday with a four-under-par 68 to outdistance most of the "name" players in the field at 172.

Barron, who fished a chance to win the United States Open on the last two holes a month ago, felt out Tam O'Shanter's 67th round with a one-under-par 74 on the first nine, then battered the back nine for a 33, three under.

That put him two strokes ahead of the United States Open champion, who opened with a 34 and took a final 36 for a 70.

The twilight doubles event, including defending champion Byron Nelson, was won by a one-over-par 74, which placed him in a tie with Lloyd Maxam, United States Open champion, staged home with the United States Open crown.

Who led for second in the All-American last year, Lawson Little, Jim Ferrier, Claude Harmon and Sammy Byrd were bracketed at 172.

A stroke ahead with 71's were unknowns, Bob Buppig, Erie Ball and Earl Mack, and veterans Ellsworth Vines and Johnny Heik.

Nelson and other low "name" scores were mowed what they said was an "ideal" officials to toughen the course by concealing pins.

When a player approached the green, he just didn't know where to play his ball, said Nelson. "The pins were mostly stuck behind sand traps or otherwise required a trick chip shot."

Red Sox Star Encourages Young Fan

The success story of Dave "Bub" Ferris, pitching star of the league-leading Boston Red Sox, is a source of inspiration to his young friend, 10-year-old "Bub" Byrne, of Weston, Mass. A sufferer of asthma since infancy, "Bub" learned that his idol overcame the asthmatic handicap and how he hopes one day to be a mound star himself. Ferris is shown as he autographed a newly acquired pitcher's glove for "Bub" just before a double-header at Fenway Park.

Arrows Too Good For Canadians 8-5

Joe Shandrow's Arrows demonstrated their superiority in the Edmonton Junior Baseball league once more last night when they turned back the second-place Canadians 8-5 on the six hit pitching of Don Wynn. Wynn hurled a steady game, striking out 11 batters and was given great support by his mates, both at the plate and in the field.

Tommy McGee waited the route for the Val Berg-man club, but was nicked for nine safeties, two of them three-runners. Colin Kilburn and Roy Stewart, and his mates didn't support him too well. Arrows scored their first run in the second inning when Bob Coughlin singled to right, stole second and was driven in by Kilburn's home triple. From then on they were always in the seventh.

A pair of singles, two errors and a passed ball gave the Arrows, who have crunched first place, a 3-0 lead in the third and then a run by Kilburn and Roy Stewart, and his mates didn't support him too well. "ATTACK" — A Winnipeg crowd of 10,000 watched in admiration as paratroopers from A-35 Canadian Parachute Training Centre, Shilo Camp, Man., rocketed from three Dakota transport aircraft to carry out a simulated attack on Stevenson's Field during the Air Display Day at the Manitoba capital. Within 50 seconds of "hitting the silk" the airborne men were in action and wiped out "enemy" machine gun posts and armored carriers. Edmonton spectators will witness a similar performance during the air display here. The display opened at 2 p.m. The paratroopers will stage their show at 7 p.m. today. The show will continue on Saturday.

Cigarettes Draw High Price On Berlin's Black Market

BY LYLE C. WILSON

BERLIN, July 26.—(U.P.)—In violation of all law except supply and demand I strolled into a Berlin street crowd and sold for $13 a package of cigarettes which cost me 15 cents at Schulte's store, 14th and F streets in Washington, D.C.

THAT WAS A BLACK MARKET sale at a black market price. With a little haggling I could have had $15 to $17 for my package of Philip Morris. I could have disposed of a carton for upwards of $150.

What I received for my cigarettes was not dollars. It was marks—130 of them. The mark is worth 10 cents because the four powers occupying Germany have agreed to that rate of exchange.

For the marks I spent in Germany I had to pay 10 cents each. But facts are that the mark actually isn't worth much of anything except for the purchase of rationed goods with fixed prices.

BARTER, THEREFORE, has become a big business in Berlin and generally throughout Germany. Tobacco is both a luxury and a medium of exchange.

The average German has become a pack rat hoarding all kinds of food and goods for which he will pay fantastic prices. The average German would prefer a length of cloth, a shoe brush, a pewter goblet or what have you, to money.

His hunger for tobacco is pathetic. His ration of 12 cigarettes monthly was abolished some time ago.

The German who pays the equivalent of $10 to $15 for a package of American cigarettes probably intends to smoke a couple and trade the rest. Two packs of cigarettes would get him a bottle of wine in Berlin's shabby but most luxurious night club, the Femina.

TWO OR THREE cigarettes would bring a grateful girl to his bed. With cigarettes he might even get shoes.

Cigarettes, soap and chocolate which can be had by our soldiers in substantial quantities at army post exchanges are basic necessities in Germany's "Alice in Wonderland" barter economy.

But the good old days are gone forever. Until recently it was possible for a G.I. to buy almost unlimited quantities of such scarce articles from post exchanges in exchange for German marks.

He could sell them instantly for a hundred times their cost, receiving marks with which to make further purchases.

COL. FRANK HOWLEY of the four-power Berlin Kommandatura cited last August as an example American soldiers in this area then sent home by money order approximately $2,000,000.

The remarkable thing was that the total American payroll here last August was only $1,000,000. The difference represented the profit from black market operations.

Through a complicated system of money control books the new issue of marks the army is now bringing the G.I. black market spree to an end. But the temptation remains enormous.

A colonel made it clear to me when he remarked that the four or five cartons of post exchange cigarettes he is permitted to buy monthly could be sold on the black market for considerably more than his monthly salary.

HE WAS CORRECT in that a colonel's base pay is $375 per month and he is paid in marks. Four cartons of American cigarettes at $100 per carton would bring in the equivalent of $400.

Even cigarette butts have value—either to be smoked by the finder or to be sold for a few marks to some tobacco-starved German. German soldiers where Americans are likely to discard cigarettes as in front of any American movie theatre here.

Pat Conner, head of the United Press Berlin bureau, flipped a butt high in the air the other night in front of a Frankfurt movie. Germans collided like the Dodger infield going after a pop fly. I SAW A RUNTY child dive under the wheels of a slow moving automobile after a butt I had tossed away. The child was unhurt but there after I took more care where my cigarettes landed.

American money—the old faithful $1 bill—was the passport to everything, including pleasure, when I visited Germany in 1922 after World War One. But even the dollar has lost some of its prestige.

One of our party of visiting correspondents tested the market by offering simultaneously to sell a package of cigarettes or a $1 bill. The German buyer bid half as much again for the smokes as for the money.

BERLIN ONCE COUNTED 4,000,000 inhabitants. It has perhaps 3,250,000 now.

Berliners have nothing, literally nothing, with which to repay Missouri Valley farmers for the flour sent to them here.

These people cannot continue to live in Berlin indefinitely unless industry and commerce are revived.

Underground, the sewers, subways, power lines and transportation are all here ready for the city to be rebuilt over them. The water is fit to drink now. A year ago it was poison.

Infant mortality in the American sector in July, 1945, was 92 per cent. It is down to about 19 per cent now.

"WE HAVE POWDERED hell out of 'em," said Colonel Howley. "And we have licked the Typhus." By powder, Howley meant DDT.

France, Great Britain, Russia and the United States each have an area of Berlin. But the city is governed as a unit. It is one of the greatest and relatively successful experiments in international co-operation.

But in the basic obligation to cooperate the Russians are substantially doing their bit. All food is pooled. All fresh milk for the city comes from the Russian zone. We contribute powdered milk and other items.

Some of our powdered milk is consumed by the Russians. Their fresh milk goes to our children and the rest to the average German child in Berlin is not underweight.

BUT THERE IS MUCH Tuberculosis. American authorities estimated 18,000 persons who should be in hospitals were walking Berlin streets.

Plan to Increase Polling Divisions

In the meantime a corps of clerks are compiling the voter lists for the annual election to be held Wednesday, Nov. 6, with nomination day set for Monday, Oct. 28.

DECISION TO INCREASE the number of polling stations in the city was made following representations made by the "Get out the Vote" committee of the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce, the

Speaker Reviews Farm Services

Role played by the extension branch of the provincial department of agriculture, in Alberta's agricultural services, was outlined by R. M. Putnam, director of the extension branch, when he addressed the regular luncheon meeting of the Rotary club in the Mardon hotel, Thursday. Subject of Mr. Putnam's address was "Agricultural Services and the Service Clubs."

HE MENTIONED the five divions of agricultural services as marketing, inspection, research, extension and settlement or immigration. He spoke in detail of the work being undertaken by the extension branch in educating farmers, in the up-to-date farming methods, and stressed the fact that his department believed in working with and through the people in encouraging them to adopt these new, improved systems.

Mr. Putnam went on to say that to achieve advancement in agriculture, there must be training for the young people. He mentioned the junior clubs already in operation throughout the province, under the sponsorship of the extension branch of the department of agriculture, and said that service clubs could assist greatly in this training by financial donations toward scholarships or awards for the youth in training.

HE ADDED that service clubs could also assist by explaining to young people at every opportunity the need for conservation of soil resources. Unless Alberta's new generation of farmers are made aware of this need, Alberta lands will soon lose their richness and the soil will be worn out, he said.

The speaker was introduced by Professor J. P. Sackville, acting chairman of the day.

First Car-Loading Of Grain Reported

First car-loading of new grain reported by the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway this year is taking place at Foremost, near Lethbridge.

THIS WEEK'S CROP report, received from the CNR agricultural department, states that in the Edmonton territory weather has been generally warm with cool nights, with frost reported in the eastern part of the division. Moisture conditions are still very good, and due to the very heavy growth, more moisture would be beneficial.

At Lavo, about 3,000 acres suffered from 100 per cent hail damage. Some lodging of the crop has been reported due to the heavy growth. In most areas the wheat is up to 30 inches high. Rain has held up haying in some areas, but a heavy crop of good quality is now being cut.

CONTINUED LACK of moisture in the Peace River district has reduced crop prospects slightly. Throughout Alberta, crops as a whole, are showing promising progress. Approximately 81 per cent of wheat is headed out, and oats and barley are 75 per cent headed. High winds in the north central region flattened some crops, but damage is not expected to be excessive.

CROP CONDITIONS remain generally good throughout the entire prairie region and if conditions remain normal for the rest of the season, at least an average crop seems assured.

May Speed Release Of Exam Results

Grade 12 students of Alberta are likely to hear the results of their tests slightly earlier than the release date first estimated, and whether they have passed or not will end their anxieties in the early part of the coming week, officials of the department of education announced Friday.

Excellent progress on the marking and recording of the examination papers has been made by the large staff, Grade 9 results, however, are not expected to be completed until early in August, it was learned.

G. V. HAYTHORNE, associate director of agriculture department of labor, Ottawa will attend the meeting which will be presided over by O. S. Longman deputy minister of agriculture for Alberta.

Across the border farmers of the United States whose crops are now in the harvesting stage have received assistance from farmers of Alberta in a total of 35 combines which have crossed the line to help harvest the grain.

Says Wheat Pact Is Unacceptable

Carl Stimpfle, president of the Alberta Farmers Union, said Friday his organization was "not prepared to accept" the new Canadian wheat agreement with Britain calling for a fixed price of $1.55 for the first two years and minimum prices of $1.25 and $1 a bushel for the third and fourth years respectively.

"OUR ORGANIZATION wants a guaranteed price of $1.55 for five years," the A.F.U. president said. "I can't see why the minister of agriculture or the minister of trade would make an agreement like that without first calling in the western producers. After all they are the men who are producing the wheat and they should have something to say about it."

MR. STIMPFLE noted trade minister Mackinnon's announcement made no mention of prices for export other than to Britain under the new contract terms. He wondered if the estimated 280,000,000 bushels Canada would have annually available for export other than to Britain, would bring the world price, now over $2 a bushel.

Mr. Stimpfle said his organization advocated a basic price of $1.55 over a long period with a portion of that return to be set aside in an equalization fund. This fund, he said, could be used to level the price of wheat in later years if world prices fell.

HE SAID HE was leaving July 27 for Edmonton, Sask., for a conference on wheat prices with the president and vice-president of the Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada. Co-ordination of the two farm organizations also would be discussed.

The A.F.U., which claims a membership of 20,000 Alberta farmers, is presently engaged in polling its members on feasibility of a farmers non-delivery strike this fall. Mr. Stimpfle said most farmers have indicated their willingness to participate in such a strike, which would be called only if the federal government proved non-cooperative in A.F.U. demands for establishment of a non-political fact-finding board on farm prices.

14-Year-Old Boy Killed by Tractor

Crushed by a tractor which turned over on top of him, Joe Moran, 14 years old, was killed instantly, Tuesday morning. He was driving the machine for the first time.

As he turned out of the gate of Tony Ellergod's farm near Castor, where he had obtained his first tractor job the night before, the front wheels "jack-knifed" at the turn and when he wrenched them back to straighten the opposite way and threw the tractor upside down on the boy underneath.

Driving a farm tractor was to have been his contribution to the upkeep of his mother, brother and sister.

Psychic Oysters

---It Says Here

MELBOURNE, Australia, (UPI)—The manager of a Melbourne hotel had for supper a plate of oysters, four glasses of sauterne and a large helping of chicken.

"This was the first time in my life I had oysters," he said. "This gave me a comfortable feeling and went to sleep easily."

"But I woke up saying 175,248, 175,248." My wife talked me into writing to the management of a Tasmanian lottery to ask for the ticket bearing that number."

BY EDWARD W. BEATTIE
PARIS, July 28.—(AP)—Trieste is going to be the "Danzig of World War Three"—or the shining example of world co-operation under the United Nations.

IT ALL DEPENDS on what kind of spirit rules the world after the 21-nation conference which meets in Paris Monday.

That is the conclusion of observers who have watched the big four nations wrangle, wrangle, wrangle over Trieste. The big four finally came up with a Trieste "solution." It is a solution that none of the big four really likes—each for a different reason. And both Italy and Yugoslavia are humping mad about it.

Trieste is a typical European spot. It has been that for years and nothing that happened during or after World War II has changed that.

IT IS A SEEDY but potentially important port in what was Italy's Venezia Giulia province at the head of the Adriatic Sea. Centuries of warfare have left two racial strains, the Italians and the Yugoslavs, hopelessly mixed up.

Both Italy and Yugoslavia claimed Trieste and the province of Venezia Giulia. Britain and the United States supported Italy. Russia supported Yugoslavia. France acted as peacemaker.

The result was a big four compromise to create an international zone embracing the port and its immediate hinterland under a guarantee by the united nations security council.

The compromise is going to provoke a lot of angry talk at the peace conference. But in the end it can be expected to be accepted. If for no other reason because nobody can think of any better way of handling the situation.

THE BIG DIFFERENCE between Trieste and Danzig is that Danzig was a "free city" inside Polish territory and dependent upon Poland for support. Trieste will lie in Italian territory but it will rely on all the United Nations for support.

The Trieste line which the big four fixed is that which France proposed. It gives most of Venezia Giulia to Yugoslavia including the naval base of Pola and the hot spot port of Fiume. It comes closely to satisfying the ethnic principles which the United States battle for.

The "French line" is as crooked as a Tennessee hill country creek. It takes large-scale map even to show all its twists and turns. Roughly, it starts at the pre-war corner of the Italian-Yugoslav border, meanders southward, then almost due south to a point near Montefalcone. Then it snakes south-east around Trieste to a point at Cittanova on the west coast of Venezia Giulia where it reaches the Adriatic.

TO THE SOUTH and south-east of Trieste are areas which the United States and Britain thought Italy should get because the population of the towns is largely Italian—although out in the country Yugoslavs predominate.

The proposition which the peace conference will have before it provides:

1-That the French line be accepted as the Yugoslav-Italian boundary and that an international zone be created for Trieste.

2-That the integrity and independence of the zone be guaranteed by the UN Security Council.

3-THAT A FOUR-POWER commission go to the area to consult with Italian and Yugoslav representatives on the suggestion of putting the plan into effect.

4-That the UN Security Council must approve the final governing statute for Trieste.

5-That the statute and provisional government for Trieste be recommended by the 21-nation peace conference.

6-THAT THE STATUTE provide for a governor backed by the popular Council after consulting Italy and Yugoslavia; for universal suffrage and democratic executive and legislative organs; freedom of religion, language, press, schools and access to public services; for annual reports by the governor to the Security Council.

States Crop Outlook
Exceptionally Good
Enthusiasm over the bright outlook of crops in Northern Alberta, was expressed Thursday by F. D. Armitage, north country old timer, who has just returned to the city following a trip that took him from Lethbridge to Westlock. Mr. Armitage was particularly delighted in seeing the size and healthy state of crops on a piece of land in the Westlock area, that had been his home from 1917 to 1937. He stated that the crops on this land were the finest he had ever seen in all the years he had been living in this country. He came to Alberta in 1906 and is presently living at the YMCA in Edmonton.

Hooke is Expected Home at Week-End
Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary and minister of economic affairs, who has been holidaying for the past month at Portland, Ore., with his family, is expected back in Edmonton during the week-end. Mr. Hooke was delayed longer than he had planned due to an accident in which his 14-year-old son Keith suffered a injury to his shoulder. Details of the accident were not made known, but word came from the office that Mr. Hooke stated that the boy had completely recovered.

Weatherman Cuts Up On Alaska Highway

Shovels, scoops, elbow grease and traction chains were the order of the day and also of the weatherman when last Sunday he practically dumped gobs of snow on a large portion of the Alaska highway between Whitehorse and Dawson Creek, according to pictures evidence submitted by R. J. Cooke, on Thursday.

COOKE, A TRAVELLER on the BYN, he says he was back to town time off from his shovelling in the four-foot drifts to snap the above pictures at points between Fort Nelson and Fort St. John.

He said the snow strip was estimated at 30 miles in width and that its greatest depth and the greatest number of drifts were encountered about 700 miles north-west of Edmonton on the Alaska highway.

The far northern snowstorm was part of the cold air mass and high velocity wind which struck Edmonton with destructive force last Sunday, causing disruption of power and telephone communications as well as snapping trolley wires and tying up city transportation considerably.

MR. COOKE, a veteran of the RCASC, left England last March following a discharge and has been travelling ever since, with his last destination Whitehorse.

Cooke by name and cook by trade, he says he will go back to work when he's finished travelling around to see the interesting spots of the world. At present he is a guest at the Lincoln hotel, and after visiting in Edmonton he will probably return to Canada's largest city, Montreal, where he was born.

"WHEN I GO BACK to work I will go wherever I can get the most money for what I do—probably back north," he said, without referring again to the shovelling he had done last Sunday.

James Abbott McNeill Whistler, painter, was expelled from West Point at the age of 20.

No Accommodation At UK Universities

LONDON, July 25.—(CP)—Shortage of accommodation will prevent thousands of ex-servicemen and matriculating schoolboys going to university next autumn, a recent survey has shown.

BOTH OXFORD and Cambridge are reserving for ex-servicemen 50 per cent of the 5,000 to 6,000 registrations they are prepared to accept. Less than 10 per cent of new students will be matriculants from high schools.

Sixteen huts will probably be erected by Balliol and New College at Oxford, while two students will live in rooms hitherto used by one. Homes are snapped up by the university for use as boarding houses as soon as they are put up for sale and undergrad search parties canvass outlying villages as far as six miles away to uncover rooms.

LONDON UNIVERSITY'S problem is even more acute. Eighty-five per cent of the boarding houses registered with the university and which catered exclusively to students were wiped out in the blitz. Students have to compete with working Londoners for their billets.

"Accommodation at Oxford will be more severe next fall than at any time in the university's history," says the Vice-Chancellor Sir Richard Livingstone, "and many ex-servicemen anxious to get the long-deferred opportunity of a university education will have to be turned down."

Bovine Tuberculosis On Wane in Alberta

Bovine tuberculosis, once an alarmingly high contributing factor in the widespread death of human beings from the plague is diminishing in Alberta through advanced control measures and increased knowledge of those engaged in agriculture it was learned Friday from Dr. R. Walton, assistant provincial veterinarian. He reported that not made known, but that domestic animals and livestock on farms in Alberta this year had been singularly free of serious diseases with the exception of Bang's disease in cows, which had not however shown an increase over former years.
